

InterMusic SF Presents its 15th SF Music Day 2022
The Free All Day Music Marathon Celebrating Bay Area Music

Sunday, October 9
12:00pm-6:30pm
San Francisco War Memorial and Performing Arts Center
San Francisco, CA

InterMusic SF announces the 15th SF Music Day, a free in-person day-long music marathon that celebrates the past, present, and future of Bay Area music, on Sunday, October 9, 2022 at the San Francisco War Memorial and Performing Arts Center on Van Ness Avenue in San Francisco. Now in its 15th year, SF Music Day will showcase more than 25 local groups, 100+ artists, and a range of diverse musical styles from classical music to global music and new music to modern jazz. The 14th SF Music Day was held on Sunday, March 20, 2022 to capacity crowds and the event livestream was watched by viewers from around the world. For more information, visit SFMusicDay.com.

SF Music Day on October 9 will run continuously for six and a half hours with artists performing on four stages throughout the day. Attendees can move freely from performance to performance in the same building and enjoy a wide range of musical presentations.

SF Music Day will feature several exclusive and one-time-only performances from Alam Khan and Arjun K. Verma with Del Sol Quartet and Nilan Chaudhuri, Bertamo Trio, Emyrea, Ensemble ARI, Ensemble for these Times, Erik Jekabson Sextet, Gary Muszynski and Friends, George Brooks with Utsav Lal and Keshav Batish, Greek Chamber Music Project, John Schott and William Winant Percussion Group, MANA Quartet, Matt Renzi Quartet, Matthew Linaman & Robert Mollicone, Michael Smolens' Spiritual Time Sextet, Nathan Clevenger Group, Ninth Planet, Quartet San Francisco, Richard Howell's Joy Protocol Ensemble, Rob Reich's Circus Bella Big Band, Sam Reider and the Human Hands, Sarah Wilson's Brass Tonic, Sierra Quartet, Terrence Brewer and Marcus Shelby Duo, The Bernal Hill Players, The Dynamic Miss Faye Carol & Her Sextet, Trinity Alps Chamber Music Festival, Vitamin Em.

Many of the performers are recipients of funding through InterMusic SF's annual Musical Grant Program, which supports unique musical projects through a competitive application process. Musical Grant Program recipients include John Schott, Gary Muszynski, Faye Carol, Greek Chamber Music Project, Vitamin Em, George Brooks, Sarah Wilson, and Ian Dogole.

“After our best attended SF Music Day in March, we are thrilled to present another day to come together and celebrate Bay Area based live music, artists, and our broad community of listeners and arts supporters,” says Cory Combs, Executive Director of InterMusic SF. “SF Music Day is designed to be a fun, engaging, and diverse musical event, and we welcome all, from the seasoned concert attendee and the first-time listener.”

InterMusic SF is a San Francisco Bay Area non-profit organization that advocates for those who create, share, and love the art of collaborative ensemble music. Our mission is to ensure ensemble music is a vital part of the cultural landscape of the Bay Area. InterMusic SF supports performers, composers, educators, and presenters who engage in a wide variety of styles and genres. InterMusic SF is committed to bolstering the careers of artists by offering performance opportunities, fiscal sponsorship, professional development workshops, and financial awards. We enable the communities we serve to achieve sustainable careers and produce creative work, while fostering greater access and genuine engagement for their audiences.

SF Music Day is made possible with support from the Baker Street Foundation, the Mervyn L. Brenner Foundation, the Walter and Elise Haas Foundation, the Phyllis C. Wattis Foundation, and the Fleishhacker Foundation

CALENDAR EDITORS PLEASE NOTE:

What: InterMusic Presents: SF Music Day 2022

Description: The 15th SF Music Day is a free, daylong music festival in downtown San Francisco, presenting more than 25 Bay Area ensembles in classical, jazz, contemporary, Baroque, and global music traditions. The festival, now in its fifteenth year, showcases the wide diversity and range of the Bay Area music community, from familiar repertoire to innovative new sounds.

Where: San Francisco War Memorial and Performing Arts Center, 401 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco

When: Sunday, October 9, 2022, 12:00pm – 7:00pm

Tickets: Admission is free; no tickets or reservations are required.

Information: For information visit www.intermusicsf.org, or call (415) 818-2825.

####END####